1 | The Ice Breaker Chair from Caracole has a custom-engineered frame wrapped in a gold bullion metal tone. A micro-herringbone pattern in an off-white linen-blend fabric offers simplistic beauty. For pricing and dealer locator, caracole.com.

2 | The Burroughs Dining Table from Vanguard's Michael Weiss collection has a polished stainless steel base and an ash wood top with a Durango finish. $6,897. vanguardfurniture.com.

3 | Noir's Jack Table lamp is inspired by the flourishing geometric trend and exquisite interplay of modern lines contrasted by antique brass. Style Connection LTD in Manalapan (to the trade) or noirfurniturela.com.

4 | Inspired by the shapes found in nature-born tessellations, the Hexagon Table from Global Views is a geometric gold mine. Constructed from solid iron with a goldleaf finish, the table has a mirrored glass bottom shelf and clear glass top. $499 each. globalviews.com (to the trade) or zincdecor.com.

5 | The Dolma Chandelier's basket-inspired weave is a marriage of global craft and modern geometry. Hexagons combine into circular form, suspended from matching polished brass chain links. Think of it as jewelry for the home. $4,650. arteriorshome.com.

6 | Designed by Peter Jacob for Wesley Hall, the Bright Spot Hex Table — shown in an alabaster and mink finish — contains all the right angles. $1,270. Schwartz Design Showroom in Metuchen (to the trade).

7 | Yacht Club, new from Phillip Jeffries Ltd., features authentic wood veneer cut into two shapes and hand-placed atop a metallic ground for a pop of shimmer and three-dimensional effect. The interlocking chain pattern — cast off in seaway style — is available in seven colorations, including Batten Blue (inset). Phillip Jeffries Ltd. (to the trade).
